Among the oldest fabrics in the world, linen provides an amazing sensation of freshness in the hot season. Linen clothing allows a greater flow of air on the body, being a very breathable and hygroscopic fabric. It won't adhere to the skin, when it captures the humidity it swells and then dries quickly expelling the moisture to the outside and returning to being fresh.

"Seersucker" the name comes from the Persian words: "SHUR E SHAKAR" which means sugar and milk, signifying the alternation of smooth and rough. Fabric is pure for summer. Its curled characteristic feature does not rest entirely in contact with the skin and allows heat dissipation facilitating breathability.

An unmistakable style, the harmony of colors and graphics, and analysis and interpretation of International trends in line with the tradition of individual brands give uniquely varied sophisticated products. Yarn-dyed fabrics and also many piece-dyed fabrics are available in a wide range of colors and bases.
